Main Menu Page (Carly)

| Test Case # | Functional Requirement, or Test Objective | Input data | Expected result/output |
|---|---|---|---|
| 1 | The system shall allow the user to change pages based on the corresponding button clicked on the main menu page. | • The user clicks on any button on the main menu. | The main menu switches to the corresponding page. |

Donut Page (Alec)

| Test Case # | Functional Requirement, or Test Objective | Test description and input data | Expected result/output |
|---|---|---|---|
| 1 | The system shall allow the user to choose a specific type of donut from a dropdown, and see the relevant flavors for that type. | • The user clicks “cake donut” from the donut type dropdown, and is then able to select from plain, marble, or blueberry. | In the lefthand grid area, the choices plain, marble, and blueberry appear |
| 2 | The user should be able to select a flavor of donut from the lefthand grid area after choosing a type of donut. | The user clicks cake donut from the donut type dropdown, and then clicks on blueberry. | The blueberry flavor should be highlighted blue |
| 3 | The user is able to select a quantity of donuts | The user clicks on the quantity dropdown after selecting a donut type and flavor, and presses the #3 from the dropdown | #3 should show on the dropdown |
| 4 | The user is able to add a donut to the order | The user clicks on the quantity dropdown after selecting a donut type and flavor, and presses the #3 from the dropdown, then press the >> button. | 3 blueberry cake donuts should show up in the righthand grid area, along with the price in the subtotal area |

| | | | |
|---|---|---|---|
| 5 | The user should be able to add more of the same donut, and have the quantity increase. | The user clicks on the quantity dropdown after selecting a donut type and flavor, and presses the #3 from the dropdown, then presses the >> button, the user then should select 4 from the quantity and press >> again. | 7 blueberry cake donuts should show up in the right-hand grid area in 1 gridspace, along with an increased price in the subtotal area |
| 6 | The user should be able to remove donuts from their order | The user clicks on the quantity dropdown after selecting a donut type and flavor, and presses the #3 from the dropdown, then presses the >> button, the user then should select marble and 4 from the quantity and press >> again. Finally the user should on the righthand grid area select the 3 blueberry donuts, and press the << button | Only the 4 marble donuts should be in the current order page, along with their corresponding price in the subtotal area. |
| 7 | The user should be able to add their donuts to the order | The user clicks on the quantity dropdown after selecting a donut type and flavor, and presses the #3 from the dropdown, then press the >> button. Then the user presses the Add to Order button | There should be a message confirming the donuts were added to the order along with an ok button, and the donuts should no longer appear on the righthand grid of the donuts page. |
| 8 | If inputs are missing, a popup will be generated and the inputs are reset. | The user doesn't add any input and clicks “add to order”. | Popup saying “no donuts in list. please add some” |
| 9 | The user should be able to return to the main menu | The user clicks the Main Menu button | The user gets returned to the main menu page. |

Coffee Page (Alec)

| Test Case # | Functional Requirement, or Test Objective | Test description and input data | Expected result/output |
|---|---|---|---|
| 1 | The user should be able to select a size of coffee | The user presses the sizedropdown and selects Grande | Grande shows up on the dropdown menu |
| 2 | The user should be able to select a quantity of coffee | The user presses the quantity dropdown and selects 5 | 5 shows up on the quantity dropdown |
| 3 | The user should be able to select an add in | The user presses the sizedropdown and selects Grande, then the user presses the quantity dropdown and selects 5 and then the user clicks the “Vanilla” button. | The vanilla button has a checkmark on it, and the price is increased from the original 5 grande selection. |
| 4 | The user should be able to select multiple add ons | The user presses the sizedropdown and selects Grande, then the user presses the quantity dropdown and selects 5 and then the user clicks the “Vanilla” button and the “Milk” button. | The vanilla button and Milk button has a checkmark on it, and the price is increased from the original 5 grande Vanilla selection. |
| 5 | The user should be able to add their coffee order to the order. | The user presses the sizedropdown and selects Grande, then the user presses the quantity dropdown and selects 5 and then the user clicks the “Vanilla” button and the “Milk” button. Then the user presses the add to order button. | The 5 grande Vanilla Milk selection is added to the order, a confirmation page comes up, and then the selections on the coffee page are all reset. |

| | | | |
|---|---|---|---|
| 6 | The user should be able to return to the main menu | The user clicks the Main Menu button | The user gets returned to the main menu page. |

Sandwich Page (Carly)

| Test Case # | Functional Requirement, or Test Objective | Test description and input data | Expected result/output |
|---|---|---|---|
| 1 | The user should be able to choose specific inputs for a sandwich order and see the price update along with each input | The user chooses a sandwich using a bagel, beef, lettuce, tomato,and quantity of 2. | Price is $25.98 |
| 2 | The user should be able to choose specific inputs for a sandwich order and add it to the order | The user chooses a sandwich using a bagel, beef, lettuce, tomato,and quantity of 2. Then the user clicks “add to order” | Sandwich was added to the order and appears in Current Orders Page/ |
| 3 | The user should be able to return to the main menu | The user clicks the Main Menu button | The user gets returned to the main menu page. |

Current Orders Page (Alec)

| Test Case # | Functional Requirement, or Test Objective | Test description and input data | Expected result/output |
|---|---|---|---|
| 1 | The user should be able to remove all of a certain item from their order | There are multiple items from other pages already added to the current order, the user selects one and presses the Remove Selected button | The item is removed from the order, and the subtotal, sales tax, and total prices go down by the relevant amount. |

| | | | |
|---|---|---|---|
| 2 | The user can place the order | There is at least 1 item from other pages already added to the current order. The user presses the Place Order button | An order confirmation popup shows on the screen for the user to press OK. After, the current order page becomes empty |
| 3 | If there are no items in current order, popup will show. | There are no items in the order | A popup pops up that says “No items in order. Please add some items and try again. |
| 4 | The user should be able to return to the main menu | The user clicks the Main Menu button | The user gets returned to the main menu page. |

Orders Confirmed Page (Carly)

| Test Case # | Functional Requirement, or Test Objective | Test description and input data | Expected result/output |
|---|---|---|---|
| 1 | The user should be able to return to the main menu | The user clicks the Main Menu button | The user gets returned to the main menu page. |
| 2 | The user should be able to click the order number dropdown and click on an order number to open up the order and its information. | the user clicks order #1. | The items and total price of order #1 is shown. |
| 3 | The user can cancel the order they are looking at. | the user clicks order #1 and then clicks “cancel order” | Order is removed and the listview clears. Order number will not show up in the dropdown. |
| 4 | The user should be able to export all the order’s information into a txt file called orders.txt | Orders exist and the user clicks the “Export Orders” button. | Orders.txt is made with the sub total, tax, total and item information of all the orders. |
| 5 | If the user clicks “Export Orders” and there are no | There are no orders and the user clicks “Export Orders” | Popup that says “No orders in list. Please |

| | | | |
|---|---|---|---|
| | orders, a popup will show. | | order some items.” |